

Fire Blanket

Model SFB 200

SFFECO Fire Blankets are simple to use and highly efficient fire fighting units which can extinguish fire in its early stage by smothering. They withstand extremely high temperature.

Applications:

For usage on wide range of small fires including those caused by volatile liquid and cooking gas. For schools, hospitals, hotels, residential complexes, laboratories, garages, workshops, ships, galleys and numerous industrial outlets.

A fire blanket is ideal for extinguishing cooking fat fires and can be used to wrap around people if their clothes catch on fire. In a residential situation, a fire blanket can be located in the kitchen. In commercial situations, it should be kept anywhere oils or fats, being used in cooking appliances, are a possible fire risk.
